

Straightforward legal advice
...that doesn't cost the earth

First Free Advice is a Free 15 minute telephone consultation during which a lawyer can explain what you need to do and how much it might cost.

First Free
Advice
service

You can ask them questions like:

- What documents will you need to start a divorce?
- What is the difference between contested and uncontested divorce?
- Which divorce package would be the most suitable for you?
- What would be a valid ground for divorce?
- What's the difference between a consent order and a clean break agreement and how much they usually cost.

This service is completely free and there are no obligations to proceed any further.
